

UNDISPOSABLE

SERVICE DETAILS 2019-2020

ABOUT US

Undisposable is based on inclusiveness, simplicity and magic. Our cameras are familiar, our staff do all the work for you, and I think there is always something a bit special about printed photos.

I'm Peter Kingsley and I started Undisposable. I'm a nerdy guy who loves photos and was previously a civil engineer and event photographer. It turns out I'm much happier doing my own thing, so left it all behind to print some polaroids. Now I work more hours for less money but have a fridge covered with amazing times I wouldn't have had otherwise and have no regrets.

I was proud enough of what I started that I couldn't stop talking about it to my girlfriend Emma. She supported me through the tough early stages of running a small business, and I'm so glad that I've now convinced her to make her contribution official. Emma is hard working, organised, puts herself into everything she does, and when I found out she likes spreadsheets almost as much as me, I couldn't help but ask her to work with me full-time.

When we take time to ourselves we go to the snow, play board games and binge on Netflix. If you know any good shows, we're always on the lookout.

STAFF WITH ONE CAMERA

Our staff member will capture the posed, the silly and the candid. They're no professional photographer, just think of them as a helpful friend who's good at working the room.

This package works perfectly when guests are roaming (think cocktail style events or the winging period between wedding ceremony and reception) or with a designated photo area for guest to come to for their polaroids.

All prices include GST
