COUPLE

We were quite nervous about the e-shoot, but it was very fun and relaxing. Thanks for bringing out the best in both of us. We are very excited for our wedding photos.

- Shane & Jess -

Engagement shoots are really not about the photos that are produced - they are about practicing for the wedding day. It is hugely important for the photographer and the couple, The couple needs to feel comfortable with being photographed especially if their partner is shy and the photographer needs to see the couple's personalities, quirks and how they connect with each other. It is also a great opportunity for the bride to have her make-up trial done to see how it photographs and whether she likes it.

"Save the date" invites are perfect to create, using a photo from your e-shoot.

All of Rezolution Photography's wedding collections come with a complimentary e-shoot.
