About Vows, then Vodka

Weddings that look like a dream and party like a hangover.

We're not your average wedding planners – unless your average planner rocks a clipboard in one hand and a cocktail in the other. At Vows, then Vodka, we believe that every wedding should be equal parts stunning and slightly wild (in the best ways)

Based in Melbourne and planning weddings across Victoria and destination weddings in Bali, we live for flawless aesthetics, seamless coordination and moments that make your guests say “OMG, this is SO them”

From your very first “Let’s do this” to your final spin on the dance floor, we are right there, fluffing florals, fixing timelines and probably holding your champagne while you get that perfect shot.

We are perfect for lovers who want..

Pinterest-worthy vibes without the stress of figuring out how to achieve it.

A planner who “gets” your vision (and makes it better) and brings an dream team to make sure your day is seamless.

Aesthetics that will have your guests jaw on the floor and will talk about the party for years to come.
